

Mr. Dennis L. D'Angelo is a member of the Senior Executive Service and currently serves as the Director of the 448th Supply Chain Management Wing, Air Force Sustainment Center, Tinker AFB, Oklahoma.

Mr. D'Angelo leads over 2,900 civilian, military and contractor personnel across Tinker AFB, Hill AFB, and Robins AFB to execute the Air Force Supply Chain in support of operational aircraft, engines, ICBMs, Space & C3I, and support equipment.

He has a budget authority worth over $6.3 billion annually to provide sustainment for the Air Force, Army, Navy Marine Corps, federal agencies, and multiple foreign allies worldwide.

Mr. D'Angelo graduated from Virginia Polytechnic and State University in Blacksburg, Virginia in 1977 and was commissioned in the United States Air Force as a pilot.

He served the majority of his 30-year career piloting C-5s and also served as Commander of the 88th Logistics Group and Vice Commander of the 88th Air Base Wing at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Upon his retirement from active duty, Mr. D'Angelo joined the civil service as Chief of the U.S. Africa Command Deployment and Distribution Operations Center in Stuttgart, Germany.

He was later promoted to Director of Staff, Operations Directorate, U.S. Africa Command.

Prior to his current position, he was the Deputy Director of Logistics and Engineering at U.S. Central Command, MacDill AFB, Florida.
